ARTPOURLARTISM

“Taken from the French, the term "l'art pour l'art," (Art for Art's Sake) expresses the idea that art has an inherent value independent of its subject-matter, or of any social, political, or ethical significance. By contrast, art should be judged purely on its own terms: according to whether or not it is beautiful, capable of inducing ecstasy or revery in the viewer through its formal qualities (its use of line, color, pattern, and so on). <https://www.theartstory.org>

You can agree with it or not, you can give another interpretation of what Art is ...or should be... In that spirit Artists are invited to create a work of art using an arrangement of visual elements as the basis for a composition that could be realistic, expressionist, or abstract.

Anything goes...
